EXPENSE REPORTING MADE EASY

ZipExpenses is an easy-to-use mobile and desktop expense reporting application, offering a unique collaborative approval process that's both insightful and secure. In this case study, we will show how ZipExpenses has helped Sunbit -- a Los Angeles-based Fintech startup that personalizes payment plans for retailers -- streamline their expense reporting using its mileage tracking for employees, acting as a portal for employees to download their card activity, and submitting receipts via mobile app.

OUR PRODUCT

ZipExpenses is built to manage expense reporting for businesses of all sizes, with an emphasis on small businesses. ZipExpenses streamlines the reimbursement process with a receipt capture feature that routes expenses back to your company through our mobile app. If you're on the go, ZipExpenses helps employees track their mileage for reimbursement using a "point A to point B" map feature. In addition, each user has the capability to comment on each expense with our in-app chat feature for real-time collaboration.
